SLUMBER PARTIES

WHAT'S THE EXCITEMENT ALL ABOUT?

"There is a new trend sweeping the suburbs these days! They are called SLUMBER PARTIES, but the women attending them are not staying up late and camping out in sleeping bags...They are looking for ways to spice up their sex lives." Katie Couric/Today

Founded in 1993, Slumber Parties is a company specializing in women-only adult toy home parties. It is also one of the fastest growing woman-owned businesses in America according to Inc. 5000. Slumber Parties Company President, Kim Brecheen, attributes its phenomenal growth to the supportive women-only environment.

Adult-toy parties have surged in popularity in the last 10 years according to Consultants, the parties allow women to explore their sexuality as well as break into an entrepreneurial market that women didn't discuss even in the bedroom 20 years ago.

The format is simple: a group of women get together in the privacy of their hostess's home to relax and enjoy refreshments while an adult-product Consultant explains her products and answers questions. Later the Slumber Parties Consultant meets with each woman in a private one-on-one session so guests can order discreetly. (Slumber Parties Consultants are exclusively adult women). Not only are these products fun to sell, but the money-making potential is unlimited. As a single mother of two, Brecheen says she bought a new house and put both of her children through college working full time as a Consultant.

"I flipped the coin between selling children's products and selling adult products, and I chose adult products", she says.

She chose wisely, musing on the dra-maric success she saw after 2004, when the company's profits doubled to $54 million. The number of company Consultants worldwide has currently risen to over 30,000. After Brecheen appeared on the Montel Williams show, the company website, Slumberparties.com, received 15,000 hits every half hour for a week.

Slumber Parties has one simple goal: To empower women.

Whether through their successful product line or fun in-home parties, women across the globe are sharing their stories of success!

Great things are happening at Slumber Parties and you can be a part of the team! Their Consultants are rewarded not only financially but also gain the satisfaction of helping other women become empowered as well.

"I became a Slumber Parties Consultant in November 2000 while working as the Director of Administration at Johns Hopkins University. My mother passed away and I completed my MBA in Marketing at Johns Hopkins University in early 2000. With such major life changes, I felt that there was a void in my life. Slumber Parties helped to keep my mind occupied and bring in extra money to pay off $28,000 in credit card debt. Since I've been a part of Slumber Parties, I've left my day job, earned numerous awards and prizes including the Presidential Award in 2004, Top Ten in sales in 2005 and the Lake Austin Spa Trip in 2006. I am also debt-free and I get to stay at home every day with my wonderful toddler – I am truly Living the Fantasy!

7 tips for sex in the shower

from sexinfo101.com

For some people, sex in the shower proves to be a carnal challenge. Some feel uncomfortably confined while they're in the stall, while others get too distracted by the thought of slipping and falling. However, although it takes some creative manoeuvring, there are many advantages to this very wet form of sexual activity.

Why it's Great

The shower is the most natural place to be naked, and getting intimate there creates a novel twist to your sex life. Having steamy hot water run down your bodies can be extremely seductive, which also seriously increases your chance of getting lucky. The setting is naturally conducive to sensual caress, oral attention and deep kissing. It's an efficient, no fuss way to get off, and comes in especially handy when you don't have privacy or when time is a constraint. It's refreshing and invigorating, which is great for those who fall into a coma-like sleep after they cum. It's also very suitable for those who suffer from the adverse effects of chronic body odour.

So now that you're all fired up to get wet, check out our tips for shower sex – they'll help make it sexy every time you step under the spritzer.

1. Safe is Sexy

Please be careful when getting down in the shower. It's very easy to slip, so take precautions to avoid any unnecessary, let alone embarrassing, injuries. Here are a few suggestions. Make sure your shower floor is clean of any soapy or oily residue. While at play, use bath products carefully; you can easily lose your footing on a slick body scrub. Although steamy can be sexy, provide adequate ventilation to prevent anyone from getting faint or dizzy.

2. Make it Spic and Span

Soap scum and piles of hair in the drain take the magic away from shower sex – and fast. A bathroom that's well prepared for sex includes a sanitized shower stall, a fresh scent, and clean towels. Avoid clutter by removing unnecessary stuff off counters and the shower caddy. Post coitus, make sure that all leftover bodily fluid is rinsed away; if not, it can leave a sticky residue that's hard to clean.

3. Set The Mood

Bepreparedforanythingandeverything. Many of the same accessories you keep handy for lovemaking in the bedroom are useful in the bathroom; candles and scented Massage oil are a must. Have nicely scented soap on hand, but use it with care! For many women, not only does it lead to an uncomfortable reaction when it contacts the vagina, the irritation may linger for days afterward. Opt for lots of foreplay to get lubricated and keep a bottle of silicone (not water-based) lube on hand. One of the few downsides of shower sex is that water quickly washes away natural lubrication, so have some extra handy!

4. Nooks and Crannies

Washing one another is an intimate and seductive act. Both of you come out clean, smelling fresh and feeling confident, all of which help put you in the mood. Use a sponge, bath mitt or soft washcloth and lather each others' bodies with a mild soap or gentle shampoo. Take your time to caress sensitive areas and feel free to sneak in a tongue or a finger.

5. Water Toys

What a great place to introduce a sex toy! Consider the fun you could have with a waterproof vibe. There are also splash-proof, hands-free options available that can be worn by either a man or a woman. How about a Dildo that you could suction to the shower wall? If you don't have any Sex Toys suitable for water play, use tools that are located right at your fingertips. If you don't have one already, a quality shower head is the best investment into your sex life in the shower. As one of the most common 'sex toys' that women start out masturbating with, not only will she appreciate the gesture, she'll also love all those fan dangled spray and massage options.

7 tips for sex in the shower

6. Appropriate Sex Positions

Prepare an arsenal of passionate poses to steam it up in the bathroom. If there's a significant height or body size difference, it's all the more reason to have some practised in your mind. In addition, be mindful of positioning yourselves so that water isn't spurting into one another's face.

The most appropriate positions are variations on the standing Rear Entry position, Bodyguard. Have her put her hands up against the wall and spread her legs, as though she were getting frisked, and penetrate her from behind. Get her to bend right over as in Ben Dover and then support her by the wrists in Prison Guard.

If you want to gaze into each others' eyes, try some of these face to face poses. If differing heights don't get in the way, be on your feet in a sort of standing Missionary; then, get a leg over in Dancer, one of the most popular positions for the shower. If you can really get a leg over, try Ballerina. Another hot shower position is to hold her up entirely.

When you need to take a break, get down on your knees and try kneeling Missionary, Bended Knee, or some good old Doggy Style. If you want to be able to sit for a while, do the Lotus.

7. Make the Best of What You've Got

You may not own the shower you've always fantasized about having sex in but, whether it's big or small, use what you've got to your advantage. If you've got a tight space with nowhere to sit or rest a leg, you'll have the most fun with standing positions. Press her against the wall of the shower and penetrate her from behind; the coolness of the shower wall will be an invigorating contrast to the hot action going on behind her.

If her legs are long enough, she can use the walls of the shower to hold herself up as he presses her body against the wall for Face to Face penetration. Wrapping a leg around his hip or leg is also a great way for her to maintain balance during Intercourse. When you need to use a restful pose, throw some towels down on the shower floor and use them to have sex on while you're on your knees.

For those of you who've got a shower seat or a bathtub, enjoy the convenience. Use the seat and ledges to prop up a leg or to brace against; find creative ways to incorporate the bathtub ledge into intercourse. Since you're not as confined with space, why not try positions like Bulldog and Cowgirl.

Final Thoughts

With all of these great reasons to get dirty while you're getting clean, why not try getting it on in the shower! Whether you use it to start off a night of fantastic lovemaking, or as a quick way to get off, the shower is an un-sung winner.

shower sex tip

Use a silicone lubricant in the shower for long lasting pleasure as your water-based lube will wash away. This is the best place to try out your new waterproof vibe!

g spot lollipop

by midnight boudoir

When I first saw these new and innovative unique sex toys, I had to know more.

I never would have thought that such a simple idea would give so much pleasure. This ingenious Lollipop helps you master your G-spot. Those of you who have trouble finding your G-spot, or those who have never squirted would definitely benefit from trying a G-spot Lollipop. The spherical shape and the correct angling and movement could turn you into a squirting queen overnight.

G-spot Lollipops have been designed to reach any woman's G-spot. The perfectly round shape fits in-between the kegel muscles in your vagina, so that when you orgasm, the kegels literally grip around the pop contracting and gripping spasmodically during your orgasm till it's finished. This feels incredible!

They are made of smooth, easy to clean acrylic which come in a gorgeous variety of yummy colours connected by hypoallergenic, body-safe surgical steel. You can leave these lying around and no one will have any idea what they are.

Your pussy won't want to let go! Because of the unique shape of the G-Spot lollipop, it creates sensations you may not have experienced before. With a normal vibe, you thrust it in and out holding the vagina open. However, with the pops, as you thrust the vagina opens and closes around it, your pussy grips onto the pop as you pull it backwards and forwards, so you are exercising more than you think you are.

The waterproof Double pop - which is G-spot Lollipop's best selling toy to date - and has been nominated for the 2012 AVN Best Sex Toy for women awards. It comes with a ball at each end of two different sizes. To use it, you start with the smaller ball, and once you have mastered the smaller pop you then move onto the larger pop, getting 2 toys in 1.

It's a sensation like no other as you feel your kegels clamp around these pops as you orgasm. Don't be surprised if you start to get comments from your OH that you feel tighter down there.

G-spot Lollipops are innovative, unique, fun and colourful toys to add to any collection. Plus, your orgasms will become more intense the more that you use this incredible toy by gradually strengthening your whole pelvic floor and improving your sexual experiences - not just for yourself but for your partner. Can you really put a price on that? Exercise has never been so much fun!

questionnaire

sub vs dom

take this quiz to find out whether you are more submissive or dominant in your relationship

1. Are you good at following orders?

A: Yes OR B: No

2. When you are out with a group of friends, do they often look to you for guidance on what to do next?

A: No OR B: Yes

3. When you are with a group of people and you start to say something, do other people stop and listen?

A: Not usually OR B: Every time!

4. When you're driving in a car with a friend or date, are you the one behind the wheel?

A: No OR B: Yes

5. If you live with your partner, whose voice is most likely to be on the home answering machine?

A: His/Hers OR B: Mine

6. Are you too proud to beg?

A: No OR B: Yes

7. If you're talking with someone in a noisy place and they tell you, "Come closer so I can hear you better," what do you do?

A: I move closer without thinking about it

OR B: Actually, I'm the one asking the other to move closer.

8. During sex, are you more often on top or on bottom?

A: Bottom OR B: Top

9. If rope is involved during sex, do you prefer to be the one doing the tying, or the one being tied up?

A: Tie me up! OR B: I'll do the tying!

10. You and your lover are about to get romantic, and he/she whips out a blindfold. You:

A: Smile and turn around so he/she can tie it around your head OR B: smile and hold out your hand to take it and tie them up

If you answered "A" more than 6 times, you are submissive and prefer to be guided and directed. You prefer to be guided and directed in the bedroom, and like to leave things in the hands of your lover.

If you answered "B" more than 6 times, you are a dominant and like to take actions into your own hands! You like directing the show and leading the way to bliss in the bedroom.

how to be kinky

by sexapalooza's
head dungeon monitor abigail

So, you've read Fifty Shades of Grey and are left hungry for more? The world of whips and chains is not just a fantasy world. There are plenty of kinky people out there, exploring this wonderful, spicy lifestyle. Now you can explore it too, in whatever way fits into your life and comfort zone.

A Dominant can be male or female, just as a submissive can be, too. And if you like both sides of the flogger, then you're what we call a 'switch'. There's no shame in exploring our sexuality, but there are an awful lot of close-minded people who will think so, and so most of the people in this lifestyle hide it to some degree. Jobs have been lost and homes have been broken due to a lack of understanding, and to close-mindedness. Be aware that not everyone will find the excitement in this that you might.

Where to start? Maybe you just want to continue to fantasize about it. There are plenty of books and movies out there that pertain to this lifestyle. Some are serious, some find a lighter approach to it, but all of the following have some element of BDSM or kink.

Movies:

Exit to Eden, 1994, comedy. Starring Rosy O'Donnell and Dan Akroyd

The Pet, 2006, drama. Written and directed by D. Stevens

Secretary, 2002, comedy/drama. Directed by Steven Shainberg

Walk All Over Me, 2007. Drama. Directed by Robert Cuffley

Books:

Story of O, 1973. Written by Pauline Reage

The Claiming of Sleeping Beauty, 1980's. Written by Anne Rice (as A. N. Roquelaure)

Whipped, 2005. (20 Erotic stories of Female Domination). Edited by Carol Queen

Looking to learn more? Maybe pick up some rope or a crop and put it to practical use? Here's some good beginner reading, although there are plenty of great books on the market.

Educational Books:

How to Be Kinky, 2008. Written by Morpheous

Screw the Roses, Send me the Thorns, 1995. Phillip Miller, Molly Devon.

SM 101, 1996. Jay Wiseman

Bondage for Sex, 2006. Chanta Rose.

Head into the dungeon while you're at the show, and talk to the folks there. They are people just like you, who have regular jobs, and families, and mortgages. They just happen to know how to have fun and express themselves a little bit differently than others. They'd be happy to 'show you the ropes', or simply answer questions. If you'd really rather find the BDSM Community (Ottawa and most other major cities have a thriving, if rather underground group of kinksters), check out www.fetlife.com (it's Facebook for kinksters). There you can find events near you, both public and private. There are message boards, event listings, and so many things to help you explore and learn until you're ready to take the plunge!

Happy Exxxploration!!

Erotic Art Gallery presented by

La Petite Mort

Guy Bérubé's vision for La Petite Mort is truly – and perhaps surprisingly, given the gallery's name – a vision of social ethics. He sees the artist's struggle with self-awareness through visual art reflected back to the viewer not as passive recipient but as active participant in the creative endeavour. A signature feature of LPM is the feeling of discomfort many of the artworks evoke, which, as is the goal of subversive art, reflects the viewer's personal projections back upon himself.

This discomfort is a necessary part of Bérubé's aesthetic and ethical sensibility. It recognizes the role of art in alienation and in critical transformation, for cultural progress is usually provoked by the ideas invoked at the boundaries of our communities. LPM artists represent subjects at the margins of contemporary Canadian urban society – the sublime as well as the homeless and the schizophrenic – no different than most mainstream art since the post-Renaissance period. Not here to shock nor to entertain, however, M. Bérubé as LPM gallery owner, director & curator, is here to provide an inclusive forum for today's Canadian artists, including those typically sidelined by mainstream society and those simply unable to function normally within it.

LPM gives the Canadian visual arts community an edge that not only gives art a vehicle for its traditional cultural role, but is acknowledged for giving Canadian Art that edge that contributes to its recognition on the world stage.

Q: We've been together for a long time and things seem to have fizzled in the bedroom, how can we get the spark back in our sex-life?

A: You aren't alone! This is the number one problem I hear from the couples I see. The first item on the agenda: put each other first. This may sound easy until I ask couples to put aside "clutter" that gets in the way of intimacy: Facebook, Twitter, video games, smart-phones, and television, including all those recorded shows waiting for you. I usually get a little hesitation. Couples make the mistake of thinking that if they are watching television together, then they're together. Yes, you are together but are you snuggling? Are you having in-depth discussions? Are you having a good make-out session that leads to fantastic sex? Think back to when you were first dating. That is the behavior that I want couples to recreate. This includes a lot of "Love Touch" activities, erotic massage, hand holding, making out and enjoying each other physically. It's about having that feeling of butterflies in your stomach again

Q: There are so many new and wild toys out there for us women, where do I even start?

A: It can be overwhelming to know which sex toy is the best for you. First, what do you want to accomplish? A g-spot orgasm, clitoral orgasm, a combination of both? Perhaps some new BDSM toys? If you are lucky enough to have a good toy store in your town ask the sales staff which toys are the best sellers and why. But beware that the best seller may not be the most productive. Don't be afraid to ask to "play" with the toys. They usually have a display model that you can turn on and feel. You can get an idea of how strong a vibrator will feel by trying it out on your nose. (Just don't let your husband post that photo on Facebook). Sales staff can also educate you on products materials—some materials are much better than others. There are several on-line toy stores that have customer reviews of toys; just make sure that you're getting a real reviews from women, men and couples and not the company review. Have fun shopping.

Q: I've heard that I can get addicted to a vibrator, is that true?

A: Sex toys are a great way to enhance your sexual experiences. They can vibrate, stay hard, and best of all they don't get tired. There is no better way to learn how to experience vaginal orgasms than by using a vibrator to help you figure out how to pleasure your body better. Vibrators are a great addition to anyone's sexual repertoire. Whether as a stand-in or an addition to the "real thing", there is a size and style to suit everyone. The body responds to erotic stimulation no matter where it comes from: fingers, tongue, penis, or vibrator. Some women report occasional temporary numbness if it's too vigorous and fast. If a vibrator causes numbing, don't press it so hard into the vulva and clitoris. Addicted? No. But you might just enjoy it a whole lot!

Q: I'm a woman who's never really had an orgasm; is it still possible?

A: Absolutely! This is the number one reason women seek me out, so you're definitely are not alone. I have women in their 50's having their first orgasms! A basic check list to start includes: a great silicone lubrication (everyone should be using a lube no matter what age they are), a good rabbit-type vibrator that reaches the g-spot and the clitoris, relaxation techniques, and knowledge of your vulva. If you're not familiar with your vulva, get a mirror and look. Remember that women need at least 15 to 30 minutes of foreplay before reaching an orgasm. Men only need 5 minutes. Take your time. Turn off all distractions including the phone and television and enjoy yourself. And you're always welcome to chat with me for additional guidance.

Q: My wife has been reading the "Fifty Shades" books and is wanting to try some kinky stuff. Help!

A: For many couples, this book has certainly caused a fire in the bedroom. Something I have been hearing from a lot of men is "help, I can't keep up." Surprisingly, what wives want most is the attention and romance that the hero of the book gives his partner. Men can't be expected to have orgasm after orgasm in a thirty-minute time frame, but you can surprise her with a goodie bag of beginner BDSM toys: silk ropes, handcuffs and ben-wa balls. It's about the time and effort you put into thinking about your wife and paying attention to her desires. Maybe your next goodie bag will include some more "advanced" toys.

Q: How do I help my husband understand that I need intimacy and romance—not just sex?

A: Men and women are different when it comes to intimacy and romance. Men are visual. They see you looking hot and sexy and in five minutes are ready for an orgasm. Women on the other hand need that emotional connection. It takes us 15 to 30 minutes to get ready for an orgasm. That is a pretty big difference. I explain to my couples that there are four phases of sex. Warm-up, Experiment, Rhythm, and Orgasm. Warm-up should be happening all the time. It is the fun flirting we do with each other. Texting, sexting, e-mails, flowers, nice dinners and so on. Experiment is also fore-play. This is skipped far too often in sex and is by far the most important. This is when couples can use toys, try new positions, try oral sex, take a bubble bath, the sky's the limit. When couples skip this phase, women often feel a lack of intimacy. Make sure you are doing your best to include this in your love making. Don't skip right to rhythm, or you're missing the best part!

sex toy after care

Q: How do I clean my toys?

A: A specifically-designed sex-toy cleaner is a sure bet. You can also use a condom over your toy before use. A simple wash with Antibacterial soap and a clean cloth works too. 100% silicone, stainless steel and glass toys can be boiled—of course, make sure they don't have a battery pack!

2012 sexual astrology

Aries

Mar 21 : Apr 19

Listen to what your loved one is saying to you. Not just their words, pay attention to their body language, too. They are giving you plenty of clues about what they need from you.

Cancer

Jun 21 : July 22

You and your honey may have differing ideas about how you'd like to spend next weekend. If you're usually the one who gets to decide, let them have a chance to make the plans.

Libra

Sept 23 : Oct 22

Set the tone for the day early by leaving your sweetie a flirty message on their voicemail. They won't be able to stop thinking of you, which is exactly your goal. By evening, they'll be ready for anything.

Capricorn

Dec 22 : Jan 19

If there's something you've really wanted your lover to do, stop waiting and make the first move yourself! You're sure to get what you want when you take the matter into your own hands.

Taurus

Apr 20 : May 20

Moderation is the word for you today. Have fun with your sweetheart tonight, but don't get too wild. Pace yourself, you'll want to make the good times last all week!

Leo

July 23 : Aug 22

You're in a great mood today, so invite your sweetie out for a night on the town. If it's been a while since you've tried something new, find a place that's just opening.

Scorpio

Oct 23 : Nov 21

If you can't decide what to do for fun tomorrow tonight, let your sweetie make the call. Even better, tell them they can choose anything and you'll go along with it, with no complaining.

Aquarius

Jan 20 : Feb 18

Invite your partner to meet you at a place that is new to both of you. Take in the scene, and make connections with the people you enjoy expanding your social circle.

Gemini

May 21 : Jun 20

If you're feeling overwhelmed, remember that you don't have to do everything on your own. Let your partner know what you need. If you ask, they'll be willing to take over what you can't do.

Virgo

Aug 23 : Sept 22

You're trying to juggle a lot right now. If making plans seems like just one more chore, invite your honey to join you for a cozy night in. Cuddling on the sofa could lead to an exciting night after all.

Sagittarius

Nov 22 : Dec 21

The toughest decision you'll have to make all day is where to meet your sweetie for dinner. Keep the easy vibe going by taking in a comedy, and letting laughter take all the week's cares away.

Pisces

Feb 19 : Mar 20

Work towards finding a balance between your own needs and those of your partner. You each have different things that make you tick, and there's a middle ground where you're both happy.

It's true.

The rumors, the legends, the myths. ALL TRUE. For more than thirty years, Hedonism has enjoyed a reputation for shattering inhibitions and provoking the kind of behavior people don't talk about in polite circles. It's what happens when you combine warm water, a white-sand beach, open bars and open minds. The notorious Hedonism II on Jamaica's famed Negril Beach is about as far as you can get from your everyday life. And best of all, just about everything you can eat, drink and do is included.

sex every day keeps the doctor away

Sex burns about 70-120 calories for a 130 pound woman, and 77 to 155 calories for a 170 pound man every hour. In other words, have sex instead of exercise!!!

Sex is one of the safest sports you can take up (if you use a condom). It stretches and tones up just about every muscle in the body. It's more enjoyable than swimming 20 laps, and you don't need special sneakers!

A lot of lovemaking can unblock a stuffy nose. Sex is a natural antihistamine. It can help combat asthma and hay fever.

Sex actually relieves headaches. A lovemaking session can release the tension that restricts blood vessels in the brain.

Sex is an instant cure for mild depression. It releases endorphins into the bloodstream, producing a sense of euphoria and leaving you with a feeling of well-being.

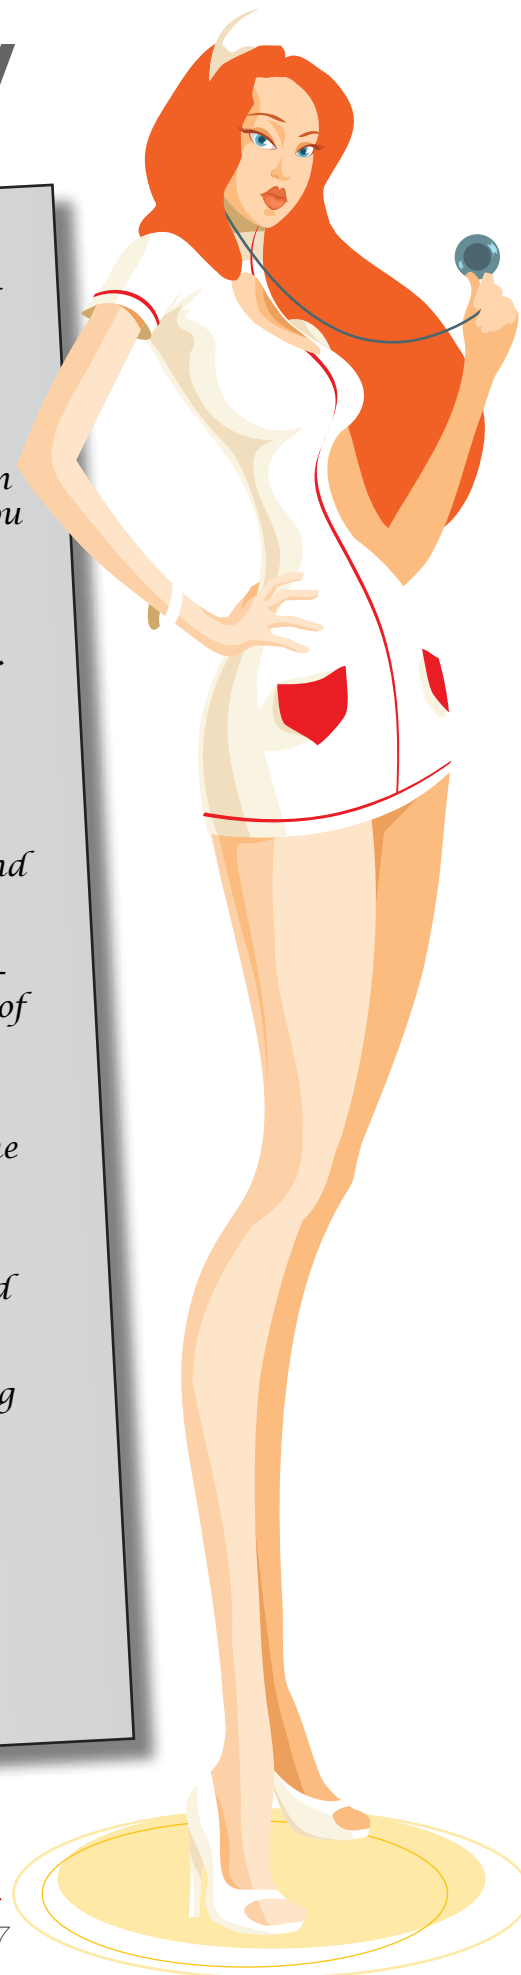

Kissing each day will keep the dentist away. Kissing encourages saliva to wash food from the teeth and lowers the level of the acid that causes decay, preventing plaque build-up.

A medical study conducted in Pennsylvania showed that people who have sex once or twice a week have their immune systems boosted slightly.

During the female orgasm, endorphines are released, which are powerful painkillers. So in fact, headaches are an invalid excuse to not have sex.

Gentle, relaxed lovemaking reduces your chances of suffering dermatitis, skin rashes and blemishes. The sweat produced cleanses the pores and makes your skin glow.

Sex is a beauty treatment. Scientific tests find that when women make love they produce amounts of the hormone estrogen, which makes hair shine and skin smooth.

recipe: creamy stuffed figs

Yields 2 servings

4 ounces pancetta or lean bacon, cooked and chopped
1/2 cup cream cheese
1 tablespoon chopped chives
Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste 4 fresh figs, stems removed
1/4 cup coarsely chopped walnuts, toasted

Set a skillet over medium heat and cook the pancetta until cooked through and crisped. Drain and chop into small pieces. Combine the pancetta, cream cheese, chives, salt, and pepper in a bowl. Make 2 vertical slices in each fig and spread into 4 quarters. Fill with a generous spoonful of the cream cheese mixture and sprinkle with the walnuts. Eat.

This recipe is from the book "InterCourses: An Aphrodisiac Cookbook"
