

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SEXAPALOOZA comes to Columbus, Ohio

Columbus first U.S. city to feature Sexapalooza

Columbus will be the first American city to host Sexapalooza, after 4 successful year in Canada. This fun, upscale adult consumer show offers a titillating unique environment dedicated to entertainment and education on all aspects of sex and sexuality.

Sexapalooza, sponsored by Slumber Parties, is coming to the Franklin County Veteran's Memorial January 13-15, 2012 and promises to be a very provocative consumer show. A diverse range of businesses, products, services and seminars will fill the venue for the three day show.

Vendors will exhibit everything from adult toys, movies and lingerie to leather-wear as well as booths providing information and resources. Expect to watch fantastic stage shows such as burlesque and pole-dancing that will pique your interest and wow your senses. Stroll through the Dungeon and chat with members of the local BDSM organizations. Photo opportunities will be available in the "Alley of Fantasy." Learn new ideas and bedroom tips to make your sex life more exciting and fulfilling during free seminars. Shop for great deals and the newest, hottest toys and products for your toychest.

Sexapalooza is pleased to provide an opportunity to show off many of Ohio's great performers: The Ooh-La-Las Burlesque, Viva! And the Velvet Hearts!, Janaan Al Jahanni and Infinity Aerial. There will also be body painting, door prizes, educational video room, the Sex Museum and seminars on different subjects, all within a romantic, exciting atmosphere.

This licensed event runs Friday 5pm to Midnight, Saturday Noon to Midnight, and Sunday Noon to 6 PM. Tickets are $20.00 at the door or $15.00 online. Sexy seniors receive discounts. Only 21+ ages admitted.
